The Optical Society of America solicits papers that contribute new knowledge or understanding of any optical phenomenon, principle, or method. The material in each journal is described in a general way by the designation of its topical editors. Invited review papers will occasionally be published; all invited papers will be subject to peer review. The Journal of the Optical Society of America A emphasizes image science as well as being the general journal for basic material. The Journal of the Optical Society of America B emphasizes laser spectroscopy and modern quantum optics. Authors are urged also to consider the appropriateness of publishing their material in Applied Optics or the Journal of Lightwave Technology.

Submit manuscripts to Optical Society of America, Manuscript Office, Journal of the Optical Society of America A, 2010 Massachusetts Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036; phone (202) 416-1925. Submission is a representation that the manuscript has not been published previously or currently submitted for publication elsewhere. The manuscript should be accompanied by a completed copy of the transfer-of-copyright form that appears frequently in this journal. This written transfer of copyright is necessary under the U.S. copyright law in order for the Optical Society to continue disseminating research results as widely as possible. The Society continues to maintain low subscription fees to members and libraries in spite of increasing costs. Voluntary charges of $105 per printed page are suggested to help defray production expense. Failure to honor the publication charge does not affect editorial consideration.

Manuscript Preparation: Complete instructions appear in the Information for Contributors in this issue. All material, including references, figure captions, and tables, should be typed double spaced. Equations should be typed, not handwritten, wherever possible, and any unconventional notation should be explained by penciled notes in the margin. An original and three copies of the manuscript, including figures, are required. Figures will be reduced to one-column width (8.41 cm); lettering and numbers should be appropriately large. Low-quality computer graphics should be reworked by a draftsman. Tables should be on separate sheets, each with its own title. References and footnotes must be typed on a separate sheet and must be cited consecutively the first time they appear. References to journal articles should contain full titles. Authors are encouraged to refer to Style Manual, AIP Publ. R-283.2 (American Institute of Physics, 335 East 45th Street, New York, New York 10017; single copy, $12.25 prepaid, domestic) for guidance in preparation of their manuscripts. PLEASE INCLUDE YOUR TELEPHONE NUMBER ON THE FIRST PAGE OF THE MANUSCRIPT.

Proof and All Correspondence concerning papers in the process of publication should be addressed to the Managing Editor, Journal of the Optical Society of America, 2010 Massachusetts Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036; phone (202) 223-8130. In all correspondence reference should be made to the title, author, and scheduled date of publication. Extensive alterations made in proof will result in assessment of an authors' alteration fee.

This journal is printed on acid-free paper.
